Early on, I knew that my life was destined to be spent serving the public, and I have embraced that destiny with vigor. I was born in Makiki and raised in Kaimuki. Upon graduating from Sacred Hearts Academy I attended the University of Hawaii at Manoa, where I earned a degree in History. I was a 12 year Girl Scout and earned both my Silver and Gold Award. My high school and college years were spent volunteering at the YMCA, City Council and State Legislature. In college I worked part-time at the State Legislature, The Old Spaghetti Factory, the Les Murakami Baseball Stadium, participated in the UH Band, and served one term as a Senator in the Associated Students of the University of Hawaii Senate. Upon graduation I moved to Washington D.C. to work for the late Congresswoman Patsy T. Mink, before returning to Hawaii to work for Representatives Stonebraker and Ching. Currently, I am employed at the Department of Human Services under Director Lillian B. Koller, Esq., as her Policy Aide, where I have been able to gain valuable insight to the true meaning of service. The public can only truly be served when we begin to put partisan politics on the side and look at what's right for the people. My past work experiences shows that I am tireless and dedicated to serving the public, and that I have that ability to put partisan politics aside and work towards the betterment of our State.
